Principles of data processing: Part 1

[Beat Rudin]: Welcome to the second chapter, in which we will discuss the responsibility of public institutions. What are the controllers actually allowed to do when processing data and what guidelines do they need to follow? However, before we dive into the principles of data processing we would like to get to know you a bit better. To this end, we have created a short questionnaire. Please fill out this questionnaire before we move on to the principles of data processing. Thank you!
